Success Stories

"I came all the way from Vietnam to read for my Masters in Buddhist Studies at the Centre for Postgraduate Studies. I initially had fears in studying in a foreign country and was scared of possible communication barriers, but being in Sri Lanka now for many months I feel I'm sincerely blessed to have been amidst so wonderful set of people. The staff members and the fellow local students are really helpful for me and their friendliness makes things easier for my studies too. My English is also improved now and I'm working hard, with the help of the lecturers to make it better."

Bhikkuni Phan Thi Hue Nhung
Postgraduate Student

"I'm truly honoured to have been studying in the most prestigious and the foremost Buddhist University in Sri Lanka. I'm exposed not only to studies, but also to many other extracurricular opportunities in the university that improve my interpersonal skills. Even if I'm a local student, I have a lot of friends from other countries who are studying internally in the university. Their friendship has given me an exposure to the world outside Sri Lanka"

Success Stories

"As a local monk who has only few months to complete my BA (Special) degree in Archaeology, I'm indebted to my university for strengthening my wings to step into the world as a confident, and creative individual with independent thinking. Other than the subject related knowledge, BPU has provided me with a resourceful platform to develop my research skills, and the wealth of support and advice given to me by the university staff is amazing. I'm blessed to have the opportunity to learn English and French in the university which are two leading international languages in the modern world. The four years at BPU will be cherished throughout my life as the most resourceful years I've ever had."
